

SOLUNA

Written By Joey DeSousa

PROLOGUE PREVIEW

Humans, the majority of earth's population. 6.5 billion of them to be exact. What if 3% of that population wasn't human? What if it were all the things that we believe to be untrue, a myth or in fairytales. Vampires, Witches & Werewolves. They could be anyone... anywhere... at any time.

Soluna is a series that takes place in a world similar to our own - but one where Vampires, Witches & Werewolves live among us without our knowledge. These supernatural races make up a secret society and are to follow very strict rules; the fundamental ones being to never let humans know of their existence and to never fall in love with one of them either.

But as we all know.

Rules are meant to be broken.
